

PROGRAMME

THE ART CAR BOOT FAIR 4 JUNE 2006

DOORS OPEN MID DAY

Don't be shy, get stuck in! Rummage and indulge your whims! You won't be disappointed! All manner of artwares, services and performances on offer! Today only!

SPECIAL ADVICE

Get your Booty Bag from the entrance before they sell out – organic cotton and only a fiver.

SPECIAL WARNINGS

There may be scenes of a mildly explicit nature both in-boot and on-stage.
Please smoke outside the marquee area.

FOOD

Most delicious chef in London, James Knight cooking up a gastro-organic-barbecued storm to sustain you through the afternoon's delights...equally tasty (chef included) if your fancy is for more Balearic samplings try JamonJamons paella-to-die-for plus chorizo rolls, Serrano ham and all that lovely Spanish stuff.

DRINKS

Have lots...from the bar just as you come in to help you make increasingly canny purchasing decisions as afternoon glides effortlessly into evening.

THE BOOTY STAGE

DJ's
Max Sparkle
Hitman Hearn
Pam Hogg

PERFORMERS

The Teasemaids – More Tea Vicar? I should say so!
Lily White – makes grown men weak at the knees and girls think twice...
Jet – Bring on the air for the European and World Air Guitar Champion!
Richard Dyer – plays blues harmonica and reads pure poetry (alas not whilst stripping)
Mr Ted – performs his inimitable Piggy Lee routine (please don't eat your ham sarnies while he's on)

ART

In no particular order:

THE FRIDGE SHOW – coolly curated by Ian Dawson, this limited edition ‘take-away’ comes with proper certification and utterly magnetising content – get them here and put some visual culture in your kitchen. Featuring works by Marcus Harvey, Ian Dawson, Chantal Joffe, Mark Titchner, Patricia Ellis and Richard Woods.

KING STREET ROCKS: The SALON SALOON – special live in-car entertainments from Andrea Mason and her culturally decadent crew of Simon Bill, Jessica Voorsanger, Jane Simpson, Fiona Curran, Mochikolinski, Wayne Smith and Romance Romance.

ABIGAIL LANE AND SHOWROOM DUMMIES – trading out of the best decorated caravan in the world - cool tattoos & Dummies paraphernalia plus an extremely limited edition of the most unique silk scarves you’re likely to find this side of the universe.

GAVIN TURK – Rich Tea veteran of the best summer arts events ever...this guy is the cats pyjamas...and really takes the biscuit...

SARAH BAKER – more Bling! from the original Hot Solo Rider in the Antigua–Tigra...check out her spinning jewellery and customized body....

BOB AND ROBERTA SMITH – ‘Come and insult your heroes at Bob’s Shop’ – let it all out, don’t hold back, and pick up some concrete vegetables or do a rubbing(?) or two while you’re at it.

CARTER PRESENTS – goings-on in the back of a transit van that promise to ‘take us in to the depths of their psyches and spew forth delectably edible, unwholesome and fractured narrative...often uncomfortable and sometimes hilarious...popcorn will not be served. Absinthe maybe.’

SWEDISH BLONDE – the lady responsible for the entire ‘look’ of the ACBF, she’s also flogging her ‘Hackney Cockney Jewellery’ featuring the Old Broad Bean (aka our dear old Queen)...plus! a chance to chuck wet sponges at small people (Owen, Frances, Olive & Hamish) masquerading as the arch political fiends of our time...

CELL PROJECTS – promising something ‘low rent and fun’, last time they made enough cash to pay for a pitch on a Welsh camp site and a cold shower...we can only hope they do at least the same

CEDRIC CHRISTIE – turning his hearse-sized Vectra estate into a rally car...and water into wine while he’s at it...kiss this guy’s ass ‘cos he ain’t sorry anymore...

ART LAB – fresh from headlining at the Whitstable Biennial, Charlotte and Jeanine are bringing their ‘Savage School’ to the ACBF – something about text fireworks...we’re a little nervous...

FASHION EAST – Sartorial cocktails with every mug featuring designs by hot fashionista talents Gareth Pugh and David David – prohibition never looked this cool, or tasted this good...

FRUIT CORNER featuring – TURPS BANANA – launching the second issue of this fab art rag from Marcus Harvey and Peter Jones, real bananas on sale too Plus! JOHN PATRICK CLAYMAN’s ORANGEMOBIL – fresh oranges and all things orange – refresh yourself!

BOUDICCA – bringing a touch of haute couture and general high-end knick-knacks from their London design studio plus! BLACK BOXES ‘with a Boudicca moment inside that could last a lifetime...!’ We’re intrigued.

MARK AND MICHELLE HAMPSON – the most seasoned car booters in Europe will be punting Pleasure Island Enterprises (PIE) memorabilia...you’ll never have to go there, pick up your souvenirs here & jump on a sun bed quick!

OLIVIER GARBAY AND SARAH LUCAS – fag-butt jewellery, mug games and all sorts of laughs with knobs on, out of a barrow or a cab...truth is whatever they do it'll be bloody brilliant...

RICHARD CLEGG – SNOW DOOMS – theres'no doom...only ever more extraordinary scenes of humour and pathos housed in previously everyday household glass objects...in turn in a great big Zafira Cow Car...but no milk...

LUCIA HELENKA & SAM BUXTON – a fabulous flick on offer...check out the urban futurama bought to life by this dynamic VX Collective duo...

HADRIAN PIGOTT – masquerading as street artist – he'll pay you (!) to do your portrait...but if you want to keep it you'll have to buy it back...with interest...!

DAVID J BATCHELOR – re-invigorated boot sale purchases – re-worked to resonate anew to the culturally receptive contemporary audience...that's you mate

KARMAKABS – our official car service offering a transport of delight – a little piece of calmness and serenity in a car park of chaos...

PHIL DIRTBOX HOSTS FROM NIGEL ASKEW'S ROUTEMASTER BUS – beat poet and crooner extraordinaire in the chillout bus

ALEXANDER DE CADENET – bricks and the death of love cast in bronze, or was that just perma-tanned?

JAMIE LAU – have AN ANIMAL ENCOUNTER at Jamie's viewing table, and pick up some slides and DVD's

SOPHY RICKETT – a collection of wayside seeds to grow in your garden, or by the roadside, from the (occasionally) wayward Ms. Rickett Plus! images of what to expect when they come up, camomile, poppies and daisies and more...

TRUCKART – art in a truck – and why not?

PHIL DOBSON – - Mini super-psychedelic one-off abstracts plus Televisual interference made magnetic...avoid if tripping...or maybe not

JOSHUA KNOWLES – presents 'The Fortune of the Sphinx' – visit the half man/half cat in the fairground style booth to play pontoon, face your fortune or double your luck!

JASON MASSOT – presents his hitchhiking film 'Where are you going?' about 'God, death and the girl next door' – we know we're we'll be going...

1000000MPH – eclectic wares from this super-fast Dallas Seitz & Esther Windsor outfit, check out the classy multiples on offer here baby...

REZA ARAMESH – were you at the Hans Richter screening of 'Dreams Money Can Buy' at Tate Modern last Saturday night? – Reza's homage to this surrealist classic promises yet another visual spectacle featuring men in black suits, palms, a sumptuous backdrop and a real live beautiful lady wrapped in paper...that you can tear off...at a quid a sheet...please form a disorderly queue.

KATHY BATTISTA – Antipodean biscuits (they bounce...) and books with pre-fingered pages...!

SPACED OUT – A Signum in socks and all tied up in bright orange flex – these boys are right out there, 'nuff said...

OMNI – fresh from the Derby, Bob ‘n Chip join forces to run another OMNI ESCALADO STAKES – horse racing in miniature – a VERY popular pitch last year. Plus! Special Guest Sheikh Yerbooti – who is the mysterious gentleman in the Arab headdress? Bets will be taken and all will be revealed.

MARTIN WESTWOOD, LINDA PERSSON & KRISTIN POSEHN - a mixed up fruit machine/jumble sale for this anglo-scandy-yankie menage a trois

WHOOPEE CLUB – providing smatterings of titillating glamour and naughtiness throughout the afternoon, remember to pick up a Whoopee Agency card so you can add some Whoopee to your life. Plus! Check out Warren’s Bar – direct from the Bethnal Green’s Working Men’s Club – it’s where all the girls will be!

ABIGAIL FALLIS – Get acquainted with your future in the back of Abigail’s car...private palm readings and crystal ball interpretations on offer from this lady of mystery and uncanny foresight.

LEVACK – art focussed radicals who never say die with their wicked line-up of multiples but no car, ‘cos they live down the road and care about the planet man.

CHARLIE MURPHY – very popular at last years Venice Biennale, sample her lilac wine and then buy someone you love (!) a ‘Best in Show’ rosette, and see how that goes down...

TEMPORARYCONTEMPORARY – we were still hoping for the Marquis de Sade poker set but will have to wait since this year’s offerings have a distinctively Chinese theme – no Mao suits but plenty popchineseculture up for grabs.

ZOE GRIFFITHS – presenting her ‘Harvest of Art’ cling film food parcels – we hope they’re tasty! And get Zoe’s limited edition ‘Girly One’ salon posters from the Salon Saloon.

ALICE FELTON – a shoo-in with her gorgeous triptychs of utterly rare and coolly classic forties wallpaper designs...the perfect solution for all you lofties who fancy buying into the wallpaper trend but aren’t ready to give up white-walled serenity...

JAMES COOPER – real oil paintings!...from the lovely Jimbo...a true original!

KEITH TALENT – gallery wares from the Talent boys and their fine Tudor Road space.

INTERSECTION – Dan and Jorgo launch the latest issue of their ‘photographed like a fashion magazine, written like a novel’ car mag at the Art Car Boot Fair – from some fantastic vehicle...

PLUS! FASHION ALERT! ‘Future Punk’ may be all the rage but get the real thing here, direct from the woman who put the P into Punk, the inimitable, multi-talented and gobsmackingly cool PAM HOGG with her vintage fashions at amazing one-off prices – Plus! YOKO BROWN – achingly understated and beautifully put together contemporary clothing, Plus! SPAMSHIRTS – hilarious t-shirts bringing the best of SPAM out from your mailbox and onto your chest...’
